The UW-Madison Oral History Program (UW-Madison Archives) offers advice and support to faculty, academic staff, graduate students who wish to incorporate oral history into their classes. This advice and support can take various forms.

Tour of UW-Madison Archives: The depth and breadth of collection; not just oral history but also paper, photos, and other one of a kind material. Steenbock Library, 4th Floor.

In-Class Presentation: An oral history focused presentation in as little as 20 minutes to as long as a full class session.

Oral History Workshop: Work with instructor to bring students together for an oral history “mini-workshop,” (1.5-2 hours) giving students the tools to use to gather and preserve oral histories.

Recording Equipment Warehouse: We have recording equipment (and training) for the instructor and/or students to borrow to conduct oral history interviews.

Follow-up Session(s): Oral History Program staff will return to class and/or meet with specific students to provide additional advice and support, including dissecting conducted interviews, troubleshooting equipment issues, and discussing the idea of a follow-up interview.

Permanent Storage for Interviews and Paperwork. If applicable, the UW-Archives can serve as the official archives for the interviews, allowing future researchers to access to the students’ interviews.

Post-Class Debriefing: Oral History Program staff strives to be an effective tool for instructors and would relish the opportunity to meet and discuss the successes and challenges of a specific collaboration.

Since 2007, the campus oral historian at the OUP has collaborated on many projects to document campus history, including military veterans, Madison’s LGBT community, and the 2011 Capitol Protests.

For more information about the oral history program, visit the UW-Madison Oral History Program http://www.library.wisc.edu/archives/archives/oral-history-program/ or contact the oral history program head, Troy Reeves, at 608-890-1899 or troy.reeves@wisc.edu.

Additional Campus History Resources:
- UW-Madison Archives Web site: http://www.library.wisc.edu/archives/