The goal of the online magazine EVERYDAY FEMINISM (everydayfeminism.com) is “to help people heal from and stand up to everyday violence, discrimination, and marginalization through intersectional feminism... [W]e work to amplify and accelerate the progressive cultural shifts taking place across the US and the world.” Recent articles include “5 Radical Ways People Do Non-Monogamy That You Need to Know About,” “17 Lies We Need to Stop Teaching Girls About Sex,” and “How White People Subtly Reinforce White Supremacy When They Laugh at Black Names.” Sandra Kim is founder and CEO of Everyday Feminism, as well as co-publisher with Derek Ellerman. They produce the site with co-managing editors Melissa A. Fabello and Jezebel Delilah X and a host of other associates, editors, writers, vloggers, and artists. In addition to the magazine, Everyday Feminism offers speakers and “a range of online courses to help you go deeper into applying feminism to your everyday life.”

WOMEN UNDER SIEGE, an effort of the Women’s Media Center, staffed by director Lauren Wolfe and associate editor Shazdeh Omari, is “a journalism project that investigates how rape and other forms of sexualized violence are used as tools in genocide and conflict throughout the 20th century and into the 21st. Originated by Gloria Steinem, it builds on the lessons revealed in the anthology Sexual Violence Against Jewish Women During the Holocaust, by Sonja Hedgepeth and Rochelle Saidel, and also in At the Dark End of the Street: Black Women, Rape and Resistance — a New History of the Civil Rights Movement from Rosa Parks to the Rise of Black Power, by Danielle McGuire. In the belief that understanding what happened then might have helped us prevent or prepare for the mass sexual assaults of other conflicts, from Bosnia to the Democratic Republic of the Congo, this Women’s Media Center project is exploring this linkage to heighten public consciousness of causes and preventions.” See www.womenundersiegeproject.org. Feminist Collections readers will especially appreciate the resources listed in a September 14, 2015, blog post by Kerry K. Paterson, “Required Reading: 10 Books on Sexualized Violence, Gender, and War.”
